This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

JOSEPH LEMUEL CHESTER, LL.D.,

EDITOR OF THE WESTMINSTER ABBEY REGISTERS, ETC.

LONDON:

1878.

PREFACE.

I FEEL compelled to refer, with much regret, to a portion of the Preface to the first volume of this Series, the Registers of St. Peter's, Cornhill, edited by Mr. Granville Leveson Gower, F.S.A. It might be enough to say that the intimation by some of the reviewers of that volume, viz., that the Editor did not represent the views of the governing body of the Harleian Society, nor, it is believed, of any considerable number of its members, but only stated his individual opinions, is entirely justified and quite correct. I regret the expression of those opinions the more because I know that he is as much interested as any one in the success of this branch of the Society's work, and I am assured by him that had he known that his remarks were likely in any degree to interfere with this, or to be contrary to the views of the Council or Members of the Society generally, he would, in deference to them, have withheld them.

I fully agree with Mr. Gower that the Society's series of Parish Registers should not be cumbered with extraneous matter, however cognate, such as monumental inscriptions, transcripts of wills, etc., and that the annotations of the editors should be confined to necessary explanations of the text, and corrections whenever palpable errors occur; but I disagree with him completely in his opinion that we should not print every Register that we issue "in its entirety." There are plenty of Parish Registers worth printing entire, and such as are not may well be let alone by us. There are in existence several magazines in which the more important entries of the generally unimportant Registers may find, as they have already found, an appropriate place.

Mr. Gower appears to have based his theory on a mistaken idea of the character and objects of the Harleian Society, as is evinced by the following paragraph in his Preface. He says: "I maintain that as a Genealogical Society we are not concerned to find ancestors for families which have risen to the ranks of gentry in later times; our business is only with the record of those who at the time the entry was made were persons of recognised social position." To my mind the position assumed in this paragraph is entirely untenable. I should be very sorry if the Harleian Society had not a higher mission than is thus assigned to it, and, as one of its original founders, and one who has always taken the deepest interest in its welfare, I here record my protest against the imputation involved in the language quoted. As a matter of fact, we are not "concerned to find ancestors" for anybody; but, if we were, I confess my inability to see why we might not be as properly and profitably "concerned to find ancestors" for persons who have risen to eminence in these latter days, either by the force of private character, personal attainments, or public services, as for the recognised "gentry" of society, who are such merely by the right of birth. Accepting Mr. Gower's theory, we become merely an association of professional pedigree-hunters, and, in the name of the body to which I feel it an honour to belong, I disclaim the character assigned us.

The Harleian Society was instituted, as its Prospectus set forth, "for the publication of inedited manuscripts relating to Genealogy, Family History, and Heraldry," i.e., for the publication of the raw material, leaving its manipulation to the skill and taste of the various members who become possessors of the volumes. The sole object of the Society is to perpetuate and render readily accessible important manuscripts relating mainly to the personal and family history of the nation, most of which are unique and cannot now be consulted without more or less trouble and expense, and all of which are daily and hourly subject to the chance of irretrievable destruction. To print these manuscripts otherwise than entire would be to defeat the very purpose for which the Society was founded. In the case of Parish Registers particularly the necessity of completeness is most apparent. Their contents are official records, and almost every individual entry they contain is, or will be sooner or later, of importance or interest to somebody. Especially is this true in reference to the Registers of the Old London parishes, which abound with entries respecting the younger sons of the gentry of the period, who came up to the city and engaged in trade, and with those concerning other London tradesmen of lower social rank, whose daughters the gentry, and to no small extent the nobility, were not averse to marry, and who thus became the ancestors of many modern families of distinction.

It is, of course, but little that a single society can accomplish towards preserving for future generations these important records, which are numbered by thousands, but it surely is incumbent upon it to do thoroughly whatever it attempts. Every Parish Register thus issued may be regarded as rescued from destruction, and although, in case of the future loss of the original, the printed copy might not be available for legal purposes, it would be as valuable to the historian and biographer as the original itself. Such, manifestly, would not be the case, if the Society should act upon Mr. Gower's suggestion, and print only a series of extracts relating exclusively to the "gentry" of the period.

It will be, therefore, satisfactory to the numerous members of the Society who have expressed alarm at this portion of Mr. Gower's Preface, and to others who take an interest in the subject, to learn that it has been decided that all Parish Registers issued by the Society shall be printed in their entirety, down to the date now fixed upon, viz., the 25th of March, 1754. This limit has been adopted because on the following day the Marriage Act known as Lord Hardwicke's came into force, under the provisions of which the difficulty of ascertaining the church in which any particular marriage was solemnized was greatly lessened, rendering the Registers since that period of less practical importance.

In accordance with this decision, a second volume of the Registers of St. Peter's, Cornhill, will shortly be issued, extending to the date mentioned; and it is intended that henceforth the entire Register of any parish printed by the Society, from its commencement to 1754, shall be comprised, if possible, within a single volume.

It is not deemed necessary that a Register shall be printed strictly verbatim et literatim, for, if this were done, not only would the size of the volume be very greatly increased, and of course its expense, but it would, as a rule, be very inconvenient to consult. The present volume would have been very nearly double in size if the Registers had been printed exactly as they exist. Yet not one word has been omitted of the slightest possible importance. By the arrangement of the dates in a column, and the general heading at the top of the page, we avoid the incessant repetition of such phrases as "were married (or baptized, or buried) on the twenty-fourth day of September in the year aforesaid," which contain no fact that is not clearly stated in infinitely less space in the heading and side-date referred to. A large amount of space has also been saved by omitting the names and descriptions of the clergy by whom the various ceremonies were performed, the same names sometimes occurring twenty times on one page, and possessing no value in connection with the entries themselves. Beyond this, no liberties whatever have been taken with the text, except that I have directed the Printers to commence all Christian and Surnames with capital letters, whether so in the original or not—an innovation for which I make no apology, and which I adopt solely on the score of greater convenience in consulting the volume.

The Registers of St. Dionis contain no extraneous records, as in the case of St. Peter's, Cornhill, except a memorandum of the induction to the rectory, on the 5th of November, 1569, of John Groome alias Littlegroome, Chaplain to the then Archbishop of Canterbury.

The transcript of the Registers was made, with his usual carefulness, by Mr. J. Eedes, and, if there are any errors in it, they will probably be found to grow out of the difficulty of distinguishing, in the earlier portions, the letter n from u—a very common difficulty, but which is preeminent in these Registers.

The thanks of the Society are due to the Rev. W. H. Lyall, late Rector of St. Dionis, and to the Vestry of the parish, who unhesitatingly favoured the proposal to print the Registers; and especially to James Hamilton Townend, Esq., and Edward Martin Hubbuck, Esq., the Churchwardens, who warmly furthered the project. A more particular expression of our gratitude is due to Henry James Godden, Esq., Under-Sheriff of London, who, as Vestry Clerk and custodian of the Registers, kindly afforded every facility for their transcription in his own office, not, it is to be feared, without some amount of personal inconvenience.
